First Impressions

First impressions are important. Take a few minutes to review your CliftonStrengths Signature Themes Report and answer the following five questions about your top five. These questions serve as a starting point for your development and understanding of your CliftonStrengths themes.

1) What was your first reaction to your top five themes?

2) What did you discover about yourself after reading your report?

3) What part of your top five surprised you?

4) What particular theme did you expect to see among your top five but didn't?

5) Which theme among your top five stands out to you and why?
